October 2023 Newsletter

Hi Friends - October is always a busy month for us. I guess it's because the weather is usually nice and folks are out and about after all the scorching summer heat. We're all over the place from Branson to Shipshewana, IN and of course we have several Opry dates so check on the website for all the shows.

October is my birthday month and since I'll be turning 80, to celebrate that big one, the good folks at the Opry are celebrating it with me when I'm there on October 12th. The band is most excited because they heard there will be cake! I don't know who all will be on just yet but my friends The Bellamy Brothers, The Gatlin Brothers and our dear friend, Rhonda Vincent have let me know they're on the show so that will be fun and with the Gatlins, some shenanigans may occur. Get your ticket at www.Opry.com and come on out and join us!

We've still got Halloween and Thanksgiving to come but someone told me it was 83 days until Christmas so the merch team wants me to let you know they have a first ever Gene Watson Christmas ornament in the works. If they are delivered on time, we'll have those soon at the shows and on the online store. (If it gets stuck in manufacturing, well, you can think about it for 365 more days and act surprise when it comes out next year.)

Enjoy the good weather and we hope to see you on the road, Gene

Labor Day For A Musician

According to the internet, Labor Day is the day to honor and remember working people who've fought for workers' rights. For some of us, it means the general end of summer and this year, especially, I hope it means the cooler air is coming soon...
