August 2023 Newsletter

Hi Friends –

Thanks for being a great fan and checking out our newsletters. I hope you've been enjoying them.

Now here's something I keep hearing about – “the Dog Days of Summer” so I looked it up and here's what it says:

“The dog days of summer fall between July 3 to August 11, and that's when we have our warmest days in the Northern Hemisphere.”

They say the hottest days usually come at the end of July and here we are. I think this entire summer has been “dog days”. We sure have sweltered in the heat in Texas and I hear it was hotter than a firecracker in most areas. But I guess the good news is that we're surviving it! Just hope you're staying cool. My band will tell me they are cool all the time.

A few things you can do while you're staying inside - check out my podcast that you can find on Spotify at this link here.

We've also been working hard to get my older music up on Spotify so for my two most recent older albums that have been uploaded, click here.

Check our tour dates on the website as we add new shows all the time and we'd sure love to see you there. Take care, Gene

Independence Day

Don't you love the July 4th holiday! It's a wonderful day to come together and celebrate our great nation. I like it because it's just a good holiday - no need for a huge dinner or a bunch of gifts- just the opportunity to celebrate it as you prefer. We've had a few...

Afternoon in Lancaster, PA

We had a big crowd of real country music fans with us on Sunday afternoon (July 16th) in Lancaster, PA at the American Music Theater. Wilson Fairchild opened the show and we were glad to catch up again with them after the spectacular Fourth of July show that we did...
